service. Travelers new to East Africa often have misconceptions about their personal safety because of reports of violence in some countries. What most travelers do not realize is the size of the Continent and the large distances between reported violence and East Africa. Kenya and Tanzania have always been safe destinations for travel, and there is no reason to believe that this will change. All our vehicles are equipped with long range two way radios, and are constantly in touch with the main office in Nairobi. Violence against tourists is very rare.

As you are aware, travel to Africa can be an expensive holiday for any traveler. Through low operating overheads, we strive to keep our costs to a minimum, making travel more affordable. And, no middle men - you purchase services directly from the provider in Africa.

Why Choose WildTrek Safaris?

Conservation Conscience Eco-tourism

We offer you a safari which goes beyond the usual wildlife photography focused tour, to include talks with conservation authorities and cultural experience as well. We at WildTrek believe that any visit to Africa can represent the trip of a life time, returning home with incredible photographs and wonderful memories. We however believe that "eco-tourism" travelers should gain even more. We endeavor that our passengers should return home with an understanding of why many of the African species are vanishing, and gain an appreciation for why this is happening and what must be done to alter this pattern. Travelers should also return home with a greater appreciation for African cultures and a recognition that western culture is not only way of life.

Creative Itineraries

For the wildlife enthusiasts, your itinerary can include visits to all well known parks of East Africa and special visits to private ranches where it is possible for you to view wildlife with little interference from other tourist groups. For those with a particular interest in cultural aspects, your itinerary can include visits with indigenous tribal groups. Such visits are not the tourist cultural home-steads where your clients are pressured to purchase souvenir, but to traditional homes where your clients will be welcomed as guests. In addition to the travel itinerary options outlined in this folder, we can also create a customized itinerary specific to your wishes. You need only to contact us and let us know what you would like. If you would like detailed information on all locations in East Africa which can be visited, just return the enclosed postcard. Be sure to review the section on costs and passenger requirements.
